NIGHT CLASSES BEING ORGANIZED

As a result of the efforts of Mr. Andrew Baxter, field superintendent for the provincial department of education and the provincial institute of technology and art, a mass meeting was held at the school house Monday night and was very well attended.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. Moses Johnson, local district inspector of mines, who introduced Mr. Baxter.

Mr. Baxter fully explained the work in the various departments supported by the government and what the government was prepared to do in the way of helping those who were desirous of helping themselves by taking advantage of the several courses offered at a nominal cost. Courses would include English (non-English), mining, mathematics, dressmaking, etc., the average cost of which for one subject would not be more than $10 to the pupil, covering a period of fifteen weeks' tuition. There were in addition to courses offered locally, correspondence courses in steam and mining. The local night classes were possible, only if sufficient number of pupils enrolled.

In mining and steam, there would be twelve lessons, one every two weeks. Preliminary mathematics in easy stages were offered, as well as secondary courses in higher mathematics.

The provincial government were prepared to establish the classes in English for the non-English and to provide around sixty per cent of the total cost of operation. The pupil would be required to bear forty per cent of the cost, while the local school district would be expected to provide class rooms, janitor service and portion of teacher's salary.

Classes in dressmaking, millinery, etc., were offered at a cost of $10 for thirty lessons, or that fee may be reduced through larger than the minimum enrolment.

At the meeting, a class of sixteen non-English speaking men were enrolled for lessons in English, while about a dozen enlisted for other subjects. We understand that in addition, some twenty odd applications have been made through the secretary-treasurer of the school district.

The first class meeting will take place at the central school house on Tuesday evening next at 7.30, when applications will sign the registers and the classes will be set going. We applicants will sign the registers, principal of the school, will take charge of the classes in English. The season's course will involve thirty lessons, covering a period of fifteen weeks, two classes per week.

At the conclusion of the meeting on Tuesday night, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Baxter.

In addition to the work organized here, a class in English is being conducted independently at Coleman by Miss Yull, of the teaching staff. Also, Mr. Harry Blake is conducting a class in mining at Bellevue.

Rev. Cecil Swanson, rector of St. Augustine's Anglican church, Lethbridge, has been appointed archdeacon of Lethbridge archdiocese.

The local Elks have taken an option on the purchase of the Blairmore opera house. The matter of sale will be considered at a special meeting of the shareholders of the Blairmore Opera House Co., to be held on Monday next.

A report was current in The Pass the early part of the week to the effect that Miss Muriel Wheatley, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wheatley, of Calgary, was seriously ill. By phone from Calgary, before going to press, we learn that her condition is improving. She is a patient in the isolation hospital.

FIRST AID ASSOCIATION ELECT OFFICERS

A meeting of the Blairmore First Aid Association was held on the evening of the 14th inst., in the general offices of the West Canadian Collieries, Limited.

The meeting was well attended by old and prospective new members and quite a few who could not attend the meeting, signified their willingness to join the First Aid class by having their names turned in to be put upon the roll.

The attendance of a large number of new members at this meeting was very gratifying to the officers, as this assures Blairmore of having one of the best First Aid classes in the Crows' Nest Pass.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year at this meeting: Honorary presidents—Mr. J. Charbonnier and Mr. G. A. Vissac. Honorary vice-presidents—Mr. R. Green and Mr. L. P. Robert. President—Mr. M. Johnson. Vice-president—Mr. M. H. Congdon. Secretary-treasurer—Mr. J. V. McDougall.

The next meeting of the First Aid Association will be held in the general offices of the West Canadian Collieries, Limited, on Sunday morning, November 6th, commencing at 10.30. Anyone desirous of taking up First Aid work during the coming winter and who have not as yet signified their willingness to any of the officials, are requested to attend this meeting on Sunday, November 6th when the different classes will be formed and arrangements made for supplies and books.

MEETING OF C. N. PASS MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

The Crows' Nest Pass Ministerial Association met in the United church at Pincher Creek on Monday afternoon.

The following ministers were present: Revs. Garden, Blunt, Griffith, James, Smith, Wright and Taylor and Capt. Hind.

Rev. J. W. Smith gave a very instructive and helpful paper on "Mysticism in the Mediaeval Church."

The opening devotions were taken by Rev. J. H. Garden.

The next meeting will be held at Cowley on Monday, October 31st, when Mr. Griffith will give a paper.

After a cup of tea, the meeting adjourned. The afternoon's fellowship was much enjoyed by all present.

WILL ATTEMPT TO KEEP ROAD OPEN DURING WINTER

An attempt will be made this winter to demonstrate that given a good road, automobile traffic can be carried on successfully all year round in Alberta. The Probus Club, a business men's organization of Calgary, has undertaken to keep the highway between Calgary and High River clear of snow during the winter months, to stimulate business in the city and encourage motor traffic from country points along this line.

All Knights of Pythias are anxiously looking forward to the visit to Coleman on Wednesday next of two of the supreme heads of the order, in the persons of Richard S. Witte, supreme chancellor, of Milwaukee, and Harry M. Love, supreme keeper of records and seals, of Minneapolis. Arrangements are being made for transportation from Hillcrest and Blairmore to Coleman on that evening.

REMAINS OF MR. J. HUTTON LAID TO REST AT BELLEVUE

The remains of the late John Hutton, who passed away in his sleep at his home in Bellevue on Thursday morning, were laid to rest in the Blairmore cemetery on Sunday afternoon.

The funeral was very largely attended. Services were held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Coupland, and at the United church at Bellevue, conducted by Rev. J. L. Wright.

Mr. Hutton was in his eighty-first year and was a Scotchman by birth, his birth taking place in the little village of Johnstone, Scotland, in 1847. He came to Canada in 1910, locating at Bellevue, where he has ever since resided.

The late Mr. Hutton is survived by two sons and one daughter in Scotland, and three sons and one daughter in Canada. The latter are: Mrs. George Coupland, Bellevue; John Hutton, Cadomin, and David and Duncan, Bellevue. Two other sons had passed on, George being killed in the Great War, and Hugh, who died at Bellevue two years ago.

With the bereaved we extend sympathy.

BLAIRMORE GIRL WINS HIGH HONORS AT NEW YORK

Word has been received from New York to the effect that Miss Mary Sartoris, of Blairmore, came seventh in the novice class in typewriting, making seventy-five per minute. Miss Sartoris distinguished herself in competitions at Calgary and was one of two contestants from Canada in the world championship contests in New York. The Ontario girl attained third place.

LUNDBRECK RANCHER WINS GRAND CHAMPIONSHIP

Once again has Mr. William Bennett, manager of the McEachern Ranch, near Lundbreck, carried off high honors from the stocker and feeder show.

This time, at Calgary, Mr. Bennett was awarded the grand championship for a carload of Hereford two-year-olds. In addition, he landed several other prizes in the one and two-year-old classes of Herefords.

We regret to learn of the rather serious illness of Rev. Mr. Currie at Coleman. Mr. Currie's work next Sunday will be in charge of Rev. Mr. Lord, of Brocket.

• An Annual Event

Here is a story a Hawatha, Kanaas, young lady told on herself. It is the honest truth. She is still wearing a dress she wore when she was 12 years old. The material is so good that she doesn't want to throw the dress away. No, younger sister to give it to. Each year she says, to come to keep with the march of fashion, she takes up the dress at the hem. So it annually gets shorter.

Icelander's Remarkable Feat

Swam Twelve Miles in Arctic Ocean With Temperature at 33 Degrees

Stimulating the English channel is mere play beside the feat of a young Icelander, Erlingur Palsen, a constable of Reykjavik, who swam twelve miles in the Arctic Ocean with the water at a temperature of 33—barely above freezing point. He wore three bathing suits.

It is 900 years since this swim from the island of Drangoe, in the Skagaford, to the mainland has been accomplished and that was by the legendary outlaw, Grettir. Until Palsen swam the distance nobody believed the legend, for it was regarded as impossible for a human being to endure the freezing water for the hour and a half hours necessary to cover the twelve miles.

Remains Of Ancient Villages

Kitchens Of Prehistoric Villagers Unearthed in Vicinity Of Prince Rupert

The Dominion Archaeologist of the National Museum, Ottawa, has just completed the examination of an ancient village site at Emmerson Point, Digby Island, about three miles from Prince Rupert, which was reported to him by Mr. R. W. Pillsbury, of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Station of the Canadian Biological Board. The site is about one mile from the Canadian National Railway across the channel. It covers the entire point, fronting on both beaches and is about 215 feet long by 155 feet wide. It consists of deep deposits of the shells of edible shellfish and refuse from the kitchens of the prehistoric villagers. This refuse lies in two terraces and each house being about 45 feet square. Three more rows seem to have faced the east beach—two being on one terrace and one on a lower level. Creeks in the village site on both the west and east sides. They evidently furnished fresh water—while the beaches afforded shellfish. There appears to be the remains of a fort wall protecting the village on the point from the north. Several specimens of ancient handwork were collected on this site. One is a hammer or pestle—a mere pebble battered on both ends until it assumed two flat striking or grinding faces. Another secured for the National Museum, is of particular interest. It is a fragment—the bit or cutting end of an ancient grooved adze head such as must have been used for hollowing out canoes from cedar trees, smoothing boards split from the large cedars for building houses and for similar purposes. It had been sent to Ottawa for examination by expert mineralogists as it may be jade. It certainly is a beautiful jade green colour and is so hard that it could be scratched with a knife. No such stone is known in the vicinity. There are a number of these interesting ancient places within five miles of Prince Rupert according to the archaeologist of the National Museum who says they may all be reached by motor boat from the wharf. There are deep kitchen middens marking ancient and prehistoric villages. One at Casey Point, opposite Emmerson Point, is cut by the C.N.R. and is reached by the railway on Fairview Observation Spot; a third, smaller perhaps than the others, is on the north side of the mouth of Hays Creek near the dry dock in the large yard, recently acquired by the C.N.R., but much larger and more than five feet deep, is near the coal storage plant on Digby Island within the city limits of Prince Rupert. There are several other such shellfish on Digby Island and on the mainland to the north—one at the hospital on Dodge Island, one along the west and southwest shore of Elizabeth Point, one at the Marine Station. A very large one is located on Robinson Point and on the rocks of the western part of this point is a nearly horizontal petroglyph or rock carving intaglio of a human form nearly natural size. The Indians say it is where a man fell from heaven and became a demon, or that the petroglyphs occur on the western side of the cave in the south side of Wilegabi Island near the high tide line. The Dominion Archaeologist recently found the huge deposit of an ancient village cut by the path on the western end of Lucy Island, August 14, 1927. There are numerous other remains near Prince Rupert, all of great interest to some tourists and a few local people. No real exploration or excavation of any of the ancient remains in the Talmahine linguistic area has ever been attempted. Here is the key to many of the problems of the anthropology of Western Canada and in fact of North America.

DEBILITY DUE TO INDIGESTION

Perfect Digestion Comes Through Rich, Red

There can be no perfect digestion unless you have rich, red blood. This is scientifically true. It is also true that there is no need for the stomach that is not at tonic for every other part of the body. The way, then, to tone up the stomach is to tone up the blood.

The many so-called stomach remedies merely try to digest your food for you. How much better it is to tone up the stomach so that it will do its own work as nature intended. There is no pleasure in eating pre-digested food. Tone up your stomach and your appetite and digestion will soon be normal.

If your digestion is weak and your blood thin you need the help of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to enrich the blood and restore strength. In addition use care in the selection of food and your stomach trouble will soon pass away. Mr. Gordon Dundas, Peterboro, Ont., tells us follows what this medicine did for him. He says: "Something over a year ago I was a 'salesman' when I was taken sick. I felt very miserable and lost twelve pounds in weight. I did not sleep well and could not retain my stomach. I went to a local doctor who told me to take the medicine. I did so, but I still felt listless and groggy, and had no ambition. On the advice of a friend I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had not been taking the pills long before I was beginning to feel better, and to eat fairly well. I kept on taking the pills until at the end of the second box I knew I did not need any more, as I had gained the weight I had lost, slept well and could eat anything I desired. My health and cannot say too much in praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CHAPTER IX.—Continued.

The door of the common room opened quietly. The light was switched on, and Mrs. Wymuth in dishevelled night clothes stood blinking like an owl at the light. Helmi stood at the window facing her, unafraid and calm.

Mrs. Wymuth had a sudden plan. Helmi had come back to the scene—she was frightened—now was the time.

"I came the glass to pick up," said Helmi, in a whisper. "I hope he is not hurt bad."

"He is dead," said Mrs. Wymuth, in a voice as hollow as an empty church. "Oh, Helmi, you have killed him, killed him by your blow. He is lying now cold in death."

Dead! The room swam past Helmi, table—chair—door. Dead! The word beat like a drum with every beat of her heart. Dead! Dead! Dead! Murch! Murch!

The red word danced before her eyes.

"Helmi, the police will come for you. I will have to send for them—I will have to tell them you struck him down. Listen, Helmi, tell me now who was it sent you for the door? I'll save you, Helmi, even now, if you'll say the name."

Terror had frozen Helmi's blood. She knew how awful a thing it was to kill—people who kill are hanged! She looked and unlocked her hands.

"That say the name, Helmi, and I'll save you—just the name."

For the moment Helmi could not remove her mind from the terrible present. Then she remembered. She began to speak mechanically.

"It was—then she stopped abruptly. Her oath—she had sworn!"

A deafening clanging outside drowned her words, the singing scream of a fire engine that raced by roaring from side to side.

"Who was it, Helmi, that—speak the name—I will save you," Mrs. Wymuth came closer, frowning terribly. "Helmi I will tell them you did not mean it. Just tell me who sent you. They will hang you, Helmi, and you so young. But tell me, Helmi, and I will be your friend—tell me, Helmi, tell me!"

Helmi drew back, irresolute. There was a step in the hall, quick, silent; then a voice.

"What the devil are you doing in there at this time of night?"

Mrs. Wymuth came into the room. With a small piece of cork plaster on his forehead, a young man of the accident, stood the alleged corpse in a faded brown dressing gown, his hair

RUN-DOWN AFTER BIRTH OF BABY

Ottawa Woman Made Strong by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ottawa, Ont., July 10.—"I was terribly run-down after the birth of my third baby. I had awful backache and pains, and was afraid I had serious trouble. I was tired all the time and had no appetite. My friends advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am so strong and healthy now. I feel like a new woman. I can do all the work I want to do. I am so glad I took it. I am so glad I took it. I am so glad I took it."

Terrible Backache
Hamilton, Ont., July 10.—"After my baby was born I had terrible backache and headaches. I could not do any work. I felt tired from the first minute I got up. But worst of all were the pains in my sides when I moved. I was afraid to sit or lie down for a while afterwards. I could keep my house in order, but many things had to go un-done at the time, because of my ailments. I was told by a neighbor to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as she said it would build me up. I was relieved before I had taken the first few bottles. I am now as strong and healthy as ever. I had not any trouble like this since."

and deeply interested in her own mental experiences, began to feel that the end of Helmi was a providential thing. As much as it was bringing her and her husband closer together, and under the stimulus of this belief she redoubled her efforts to please him. She went to church with him; she joined some of the women's societies. Eva was not unmindful of the benefit she would receive locally from these affiliations. It pleased her, too, to find what a flutter of pleasure her coming made in the societies. Any way, it was good policy to make her social position as secure as possible, and if Helmi did accuse her it would be easier. Through all of Eva's plans there ran one cool purpose; yet she managed to keep her conscience clear as the month day sun. She had mastered the art of self-deception.

Following out her plan to establish a blameless record and an invisible social one it occurred to Eva that it might be well for her to show an interest in the Girls' Friendly Home. It would show to the world that although the young Finnish girl had treated her badly there was no room in her noble heart for resentment. She showed with the thought of having put her hand to the plow she would not turn back.

Miss Abbie was delighted when she heard that Mrs. St. John thought of going out to see the girls, and not only that but was going to give a tea for the Home. She reported this to Mrs. Wymuth the Sunday following, when paying her weekly visits to the Home. It was used by Mrs. Wymuth in her turn, not only to show the girls how grateful they should be for food, shelter, clothing, and the blessings of the gospel, but also for kind friends to think of them. Mrs. Wymuth's tongue dripped honey, when she made the announcement to the girls.

Souvenirs Of Canada.

Buffalo Robes Presented To Prince Of Wales, Prince George, and Premier Baldwin.

Among the most interesting souvenirs of Canada carried back to England by the Prince of Wales, Prince George, and Premier Baldwin, were three magnificent buffalo robes from the National Buffalo Park at Watkinsburg, Alberta.

The robes, which were mounted as floor rugs, were each superb specimens of their kind and were presented to the distinguished visitors during their stay in Calgary by the Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, whose department is charged with the administration of the national herds in Alberta and the Far North.

As an expression of the spirit of the Canadian West, probably no more appropriate or interesting gifts could have been chosen. In the early days of exploration and pioneer settlement of the prairies the buffalo played an indispensable part.

The romance of its tragic disappearance, and of its rescue, when on the verge of extinction, through the efforts of the Government, form a story probably unequalled in the history of any other of the great quadrupeds. It is not the least gratifying feature of the success attending the development of the national herds that the buffalo robe, which is unsurpassed in its combined size, durability and beauty, is once more becoming available to limited numbers.

A Heavy Handicap
A certain big-game hunter, who was contemplating a trip to Africa, called at a sporting goods store and bought a large quantity of cartridges.

"I usually deal with your head office," he remarked to the man in charge. "But I dare say you will be able to send these for me."

"Certainly, sir."

"Well, I want them to go to Nigeria."

The other looked blank for a minute or so, then:

"I did not better give the order to our head office, sir," he ventured. "You see, we're only a small boy with a bicycle here."

A rainbow sometimes may be seen all day long in a cloudless sky in Siberia. It is said to be due to reflection of the sun on fine particles of snow in the air.

Eva began to believe in her own wily, devious, woman's life. She should be ashamed in her husband's away—she really had no life apart from him. She had been wrong to so independent of dear old Humphrey. He was the safest port in a storm after all. An early Victorian spirit settled down upon her.

In her new-found enthusiasm Eva grew more thoughtful of the Doctor's comfort and more interested in his work. The Doctor, hungry for her, was quick to see the little attentions she was bestowing on him, and responded with the eagerness of a faithful dog. Eva always analytical,

VICKS' VAPORUB

OVER 10 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

House Moved Eighty Miles

Built in 14th Century Has Been Re-erected Near London

A large Tudor house—oak beams, bricks, and tile—has been moved 80 miles from a Suffolk village and re-constructed on the outskirts of London.

This 14th century building, which has had such an adventure after centuries of peace, formerly stood in the village street at Billesdon, about 10 miles west of Ipswich. After it had been used as a farm, it was sold to an owner who approached a firm of estate agents and asked them to sell it for him. The agents suggested that it should be dismantled and reassembled near London, where it was more likely to obtain a good price. The owner agreed, and the demolition began.

Describing how the house was moved, the estate agents who are acting for the owner, said:

"We spent a fortnight making a detailed plan of the house, which was then taken to pieces. Each oak beam was numbered as it was removed."

"One beam weighed about a ton. Nearly all of the others weighed more than half a ton. The dismantling took about a month, and the site for its reconstruction was selected near Chislehurst, Essex."

"The pieces were taken by road in 100 motor-loads. All the timbers were laid around the site and working arranged to plan, the carpenters re-erected them as the original carpenters must have done centuries ago."

The freehold price of the house, which stands in about 7 acres of land and will have an electric lighting plant, is £4,500.

One Crop Buys Farm

Remarkable Success Of New Settler On Lethbridge Irrigation Tract

It is the record of the first new settler on the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation tract to complete harvest this year: Saunders Bros. of Iron Springs—purchased quarter section No. 1. Offer for wheat about $13.25 per bushel net to owner. L. N. share 1,500 bushels at $2.25, total value $2,900; which means that the Lethbridge Northern, if it sells the wheat today, will have to share $105.20 for Saunders Bros. being the excess which one-third of the crop brought over purchase price of land. This crop was cut and harvested with a combine and the grain graded, a perfect No. 1 direct from the machine.

Canada Is Proud To Be Called "Modern Country"

In the fourth quarter of the last century people when they desired to be unconventional, called Canada a "wooden country" referring of course to the widespread use of wood in the construction of buildings, bridges, sidewalks, pavements, etc.

Today statesmen and economists, with far different feelings, describe the Dominion as the "softwoods storehouse of the Empire" and urge all Canadians from patriotic as well as from business motives to conserve and utilize this great resource with which a beneficent Providence has endowed the land.

Had Thrilling Trip

Girl Member Of Trader Crew Returns After Voyage To South Seas

A proposed marriage from a cannibal chief in the New Hebrides and a score of other adventures in the South Seas were part of the story of a girl who returned to her home in New York after a runaway trip to sea.

The girl, Viola Irene Cooper, a member of a trader crew that included Malays, Arabs, Fijians, Portuguese and French men, stood watch and ate shark fins as regularly as the most bodied seaman in the realization of a dream inspired by reading the sea stories of Stevenson, Conrad and Melville.

Miss Cooper shipped from San Francisco with a friend, Jean Schoon. The girls had considerable difficulty getting jobs but a kindly captain finally hired them and away they went on a cruise to the remote lands they had long desired to see.

"We were treated courteously by every one we met," reports Miss Cooper. "I was only scared once, and that was by the cannibal chief. He pinched my arm and said: 'You belong to me!' and I did not know whether he wanted to marry me or eat me. But we were good friends after that, and he promised me a copra island if I would send him a silk hat and a cutaway coat. I promised I would."

THE SCENERY OR THE BILLBOARD

Competition between the billboard and the scenery is gradually disappearing but not through any process of amalgamation. A few years ago the billboard seemed to be in a fair way to eliminate the scenery but with the aid of various civic societies and state legislatures the latter has managed to survive and may yet regain its full measure of individuality.

In the contest public sentiment has been with the scenery. The billboard has used every form of blandishment in its effort to persuade the scenery to retire from the field but without avail. It has set itself up as even more beautiful than the scenery and has demanded public patronage on the ground that it is a public necessity.

The billboard lost a large amount of its prestige when a number of its leading patrons and followers publicly admitted that it had no business to compete with the scenery and that the support which they had hitherto freely given—at an annual expense of many thousands of dollars—would be withdrawn.

The billboard undoubtedly has a place in the economic development of the country. It has served and will continue to serve a useful purpose. But the general public is firm in its conviction that it is not a suitable or a desirable competitor with the scenery and is gently leading it by the hand away from the main highways of the country.

The Kansas authorities are the latest to take peremptory steps in this direction. In accordance with an act of the Kansas legislature, which says that no signs of any kind shall be permitted along the highways except officially authorized standard road markers, orders have been issued that all billboards in conflict with the law must come down.

One by one the states are taking action for the abolition of the billboard wherever it appears in competition with the scenery, and the time may be but a few years hence when motoring tourists will be able to enjoy the scenic beauties of the vistas that lie ahead of them without the necessity of mentally registering the entire contents of a modern department store in the pictorial display which constantly flashes across their vision. —Christian Science Monitor.

SCHOOL BANKS SAVE $947,649

Proof of what the children of a community can accomplish in thrift under proper guidance is shown in a booklet entitled "The Los Angeles Plan of School Savings," published by the Los Angeles Banks School Savings Association.

The Los Angeles plan has shown an enviable result and one in excess of many others throughout the United States.

The plan has received hearty support from Mrs. Dorsey and the board of education, as well as teachers in all of the schools.

The school savings association began to function five years ago last July, with the plan placed in thirty-six schools. Within sixty days after its introduction in the first school, 17,000 school safes were in the hands of children, with 5000 school depositors having $12,000 on deposit. By November, 1923, deposits were $223,184.40.

In five years, Los Angeles school children have been able to save almost $1,000,000. There were 46,683 active school savings bank accounts on July 1, last, showing the total of $947,649.39 on deposit with an average of $20.31 per account.

The association, in addition to showing children the value of thrift and savings as relating to money, also provides a regular course in thrift for the various grades.

It teaches thrift in time, in materials at school and at home, conservation of human, animal and plant life, of natural resources and the correlation of thrift with arithmetic, English, geography, history and home economics.

As part of the course, books and lessons on budgeting have been prepared, and also thrift definitions, creeds, stories and rhymes and thrift reference books.

At the close of the school year in June, 1927, the Los Angeles school district comprised 275 elementary schools, 19 junior and 30 senior high schools. Thrift and school savings had become a definite part of the curriculum, permanently established in 182 elementary schools and 19 junior high schools. The remaining 90 elementary schools not operating school savings are recent annexations to the school district which will receive attention during the current school year.—Christian Science Monitor.

Cancellation of the appeal of Nicholas J. Veregin, of Blairmore, against the judgment of Mr. Justice Simons, dismissing Veregin's action against the Doukhobor Community, is reported from Calgary. The information was received almost immediately following the arrival of the new Peter Lordy amongst the Canadian Doukhobors.

By a mere margin of twenty-nine votes, J. A. McDonald, mayor of Nelson, defeated Dr. L. E. Borden, Conservative, in the by-election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. John Oliver.

PEACEFUL SEAS CAUSE WRECKS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Hurricane and storm are not the perils of the sea. Calm waters and easy sailing are far more dangerous—and the human equation.

The most terrible of marine disasters have occurred in peaceful weather, and ships are safer in storm than in calm.

It is paradoxical, but that is like the sea.

"Twenty-seven years ago, when I held my first inquiry into a ship mishap," mused United States Steamboat Inspector Frank S. Turner, "I thought disasters were caused by lack of experience on the part of ships' officers."

"But I soon learned that it wasn't so. I saw just as many old ones come in to explain how they ran aground or collided with other vessels."

"I have asked hundreds of them the same question, 'Why didn't you take a cast of the lead? What was sounding invented for?'"

"Why," they always answered, "I've been sailing this coast for twenty years. I was sure everything was all right. And if it hadn't been for this and that . . ."

"I suppose you can put it down to overconfidence, although it's not entirely that. In time of obvious danger everybody is on watch. When everything is quiet, captains go to sleep. And that's when they get it good."

"Lincoln said that eternal vigilance is the price of freedom. So of safety at sea."

"In one month recently there were twenty-four marine mishaps in and around San Francisco Bay. And it was July, a summer month, with no storms worth mentioning. There were some winter months last year when there wasn't a single accident."

"The greatest disasters on this coast illustrate the same paradox. Take the loss of the steamer Alaska in 1921, with fifty-nine lives, on Blunt's reef. The captain thought everything was all right."

NEW REVISED VERSIONS

A Toronto university professor, Dr. Theophile J. Meek, is reported to have completed, with the assistance of other noted biblical scholars, his new translation of the Old Testament.

The new version will be greatly condensed as compared with the existing versions in English, his aim being, according to a Toronto report, to do away with the Hebrew verbosity of the old writings. Professor Meek's version is shortly to be published. It will doubtless fill a long-felt want and will tend to popularize the sacred scriptures.

It is understood that if the Old Testament translation makes a hit with the reading public, as distinct from those who merely study it, that Professor Meek will next turn his attention to reducing the unwieldy bulk of many of the English classics—Shakespeare and Milton, for instance, and possibly Wordsworth and Tennyson. We shall then have condensed versions of Hamlet and King Lear, not only condensed, but in the more up-to-date language of America. That "Paradise Lost" could take a lot of trimming the muses are aware. It probably beats the scriptures for verbosity. A drastic blue-pencilling of "In Memoriam" would not come amiss to busy readers, and there is no reason why the "Idyll of The King" should not be made as interesting and as snappy as the average short story in the average American magazine. These are not, of course, to be mere abridgments. The changes would be structural—translations, as it were, from the original into modern trans-Atlantic English.—Truro News.

"Did her father give the bride away?"

"I should say he did. He got rattled and said, as he handed her over to the groom, 'It is more blessed to give than receive.'"

All Canada Agrees
"It's Better because it's Canadian"

"It's Better because It's Canadian" . . . a year ago General Motors of Canada gave first utterance to this phrase.

"It's Better because It's Canadian" . . . newspapers and magazines all over Canada took up the theme, impressing on Canadian citizens the pride they should justly feel in the products of their country.

"It's Better because It's Canadian" . . . the phrase has struck home, has become a challenge to the Canadian manufacturer and to the Canadian buyer.

"It's Better because It's Canadian" . . . it is a fact. And because it is a fact . . . because General Motors was inspired to put it into words . . . because Canadian editors added to its impetus . . . because Canadians accepted it . . . and because the standard of Canadian quality proved it true. . . .

. . . all Canada has enjoyed a greater measure of prosperity; and General Motors of Canada, with many other Canadian manufacturing organizations, has just completed the most successful year in its history.

"What is an unclean spirit?" teacher asked young Mike during the Scripture lesson.

"Phase out, a dhurty devil," said Mike promptly.

Plain Scotch

Two Aberdonians who were visiting London for the first time, discovered that there was no soap in their hotel bedroom, and one rang for the chambermaid.

"Ye might bring a wee bit o' sape," he suggested.

The girl, not understanding the request, simply gaped at him.

"Hoos, lassie," he grunted testily, "can ye no understand plain Scotch?"

The maid sighed with relief and shortly returned with two tumblers and a bottle.

Apparently Calgary has too many gun clubs at present.

There will be something for you in this service.

THINK THIS OVER. Heaven is—"Where God is."

Hell is—"Where God is not." The promise of God's love is—that whenever and wherever He is sincerely sought, He is found. So Herbert D. Gallaudet writes.

"Wherever the souls of men have worshipped, there is God: Where old cathedrals climb the sky;

Or shining hillside lift their heads on high;

Or silent woodland spaces challenge prayer;

Or inner chambers shut the heart from care;

Where broken temples of old faith now lie

Forgotten in the sun, or swallows cry

At dusk about some crossroads chapel bare,

Alike of bells and beauty, where saints

Of old with speaking presences unseen,

Or dreaming boys with quiet voices talked

In pairs last night on some still college green;

Where Moses' Sinai flamed, or Jesus trod

The upward way apart: there, here, is God."

Appreciation is shown of our efforts to invest money in this town and support every worth while institution by business people sending orders out for stationery that might just as well be had at home. During the week such has happened and in no case has the town benefitted to the extent of one dollar, yet we are here to pay taxes and be partly responsible for the existence of the town in which such business people choose to live. Think it over!

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Owing to the present warm weather and drying winds, threshing is now general.

Although we have had a foot of snow and a few light frosts, there hasn't yet been a killing frost here, and some of the very hardy flowers are still blooming very nicely outdoors.

Some women are not as fresh as they are painted—and some are more so.

Nath. Evans, who left here early in July with the avowed intention of returning to his motherland—Wales—for keeps, returned to Bellevue last week, perhaps somewhat fed up with conditions in the old land as compared with Canada. We are indeed glad to see Nath's smiling countenance with us again. Nath is now one of the many who has resided here for a number of years and after a brief visit back to the soil of his nativity has discovered "There is no place like Canada, after all."

A country town, boasting a long history, somewhat recently installed traffic signs under newly-adopted traffic regulations. Not long after, a certain pastor complained that all the young couples were passing his door and getting other clergymen to marry them. He finally asked a newly-married pair, who were his staunch adherents, why they went elsewhere to get married. In reply, they pointed to a sign in front of his house: "No Hitching Here."

GIRL AVIATOR IS RESCUED BY A PASSING VESSEL

Paris.—Ruth Elder failed by a scant 100th of accomplishing the feat of being the first Canadian to cross the Atlantic by aeroplane. She and her co-pilot, Captain George Haldeman, were forced down on the waters of the Atlantic by a broken oil pipe and were taken aboard the Dutch tanker Barendrecht, which rescued them. Their plane, "The American Girl," was estimated to have travelled 3,000 miles along its 3,800-mile journey.

The plane was destroyed by fire as the ship was attempting to salvage it, the ship reported. The Barendrecht was on route to the Azores. The first news of the landing and rescue arrived here in a radio message Miss Elder sent to the Paris office of the Associated Press.

Ankleton, Ala.—"We are safe and no one any worse off," Ruth Elder radioed her mother, Mrs. J. G. Elder. The message, sent from the tanker Barendrecht, which picked up Miss Elder and her co-pilot, George Haldeman, and relayed by the steamer Bayano, reads:

"We are safe and no one any worse off. Landed by S.S. Barendrecht. Wire you plans later. Love, Ruth."

Employees Can Buy Shares

Sir Alfred Mond To Try Out Co-Operative Plan

London.—Co-operation between employers and employees, which is not a new matter in the United States, is about to be tried out here by Sir Alfred Mond with 40,000 employees in his big Imperial Chemical Industries. Sir Alfred's idea is to make a capitalist of every one of his factory hands. Through his offer the employees can buy Imperial Chemical shares, quoted at 30 shillings, for 27 shillings, six pence. The only restriction is that they do not speculate. He will award free shares to workers on the basis of a man earning $1,000 annually or less getting a free share for every four purchased. The workers can vote on their stock.

"That will create a direct bond between the company officials and workers," Sir Alfred said. "Industrial peace will not be gained by pleasant talk and nice dinner parties, but by actual contact between the men and employers working out practical schemes."

Irish Free State

President Cosgrave Makes Few Changes In His Cabinet

Dublin.—President Cosgrave, re-elected as chief executive of the Irish Free State council in the Dail Eireann, has made few changes in his ministry.

The changes that were made give Hon. Ernest Blythe the postmaster-generalship as well as the portfolio of finance minister. Hon. Patrick McGilligan took over the internal affairs ministry in addition to his ministry of commerce, while Hon. James Fitzgerald, known as Minister of Justice.

After a four-hour debate on the whole Government policy the Dail approved by a vote of 76 to 70, President Cosgrave's cabinet.

May Injure Empire Trade

Change in Australian Tariff Is Viewed With Concern

Auckland, N.Z.—A detriment to the paper trade of Canada as well as to Britain is predicted in the new Australian tariff which removed the duty on a large class of printing and writing papers in sheets, thus bringing Canadian and Empire importations into line with the foreign.

Formerly the foreign products paid a 30 per cent. ad valorem duty, and in some quarters of the trade the change is viewed with concern as it is felt that a severe blow will be struck at Empire trade. One trader estimates that at least half the trade will go to foreign countries. Another merchant says that several firms have cancelled orders for Empire products and are awaiting events.

New Rural Mail Routes

Says Baffin Land Habitable For Whites

But Is Not Desirable Place Dr. Livingston Finds

Ottawa.—Baffin Island, although not as pleasant a place of residence for white men as some Southern latitudes, is nevertheless capable of sustaining a vigorous and contented native population. This is an essential point in the report of Dr. L. D. Livingston who has just returned from 15 months duty as medical officer in the Canadian Arctic Archipelago. Dr. Livingston was a member of the staff of each annual expedition to the Canadian Arctic, from 1922 to 1929, examining the natives at the different ports of call, remained in the North at the conclusion of the 1926 patrol and spent the winter of 1926-27, and the spring and summer of this year, in a detailed inspection of the natives in the interior whom it had not been possible to see on his previous annual visit.

The need of educating the Eskimos in wild life protection, in the practice of economy, and in methods of hygiene is strongly urged by Dr. Livingston. The habit of putting aside supplies of food and other necessities for seasons of scarcity, and a knowledge of sanitation would greatly improve general conditions among the Eskimos of the Eastern Arctic.

Plans For Willingdon's Visit To Washington

Program Being Worked Out By Canadian Legation & State Department

Washington.—The tentative program of entertainment of Lord Willingdon and Lady Willingdon at Washington, December 18, is now being worked out by the Canadian Legation and state department. It will be the first visit a Canadian Governor-General has made to Washington since that of the Duke of Connaught in war years, and the first time Canada's titular head has been entertained in Washington on Canadian territory.

His Excellency will exchange visits with President Coolidge and members of the cabinet and will be given the usual recognition of a representative of royalty.

It is understood that the visit has no special purpose except to establish a basis of personal contact between the governor-general and heads of the U.S. government.

On previous occasions the Canadian Governor-General has been a guest at the British embassy. The difference on this occasion is that he will be able to entertain officially at the Canadian Legation as the representative of Crown in Canada.

Invited To Deliver Address At Washington

Premier King To Take Part In Dedication Of Memorial

Ottawa.—It is reported here that Premier King has been invited and will deliver an address at the dedication of a memorial in Arlington Cemetery, Washington, to the Canadian Expeditionary Force during the Great War and gave their lives for the common cause.

It has been suggested, and the suggestion is being considered, that the prime minister be escorted by a contingent of Canadian troops at the ceremonies which will take place October 29.

Winter Fair Dates

First Saskatchewan Show Will Be Held November 1

Regina.—Dates for the different sections of the Provincial Winter Fair were approved at a meeting of the board of directors of the Regina Exhibition Association, held under the chairmanship of President H. G. Smith.

The sheep and swine show, it was decided, will be held on November 1, 2 and 3; the dressed poultry show on December 7; live poultry exhibition, January 17, 18 and 19; and horse and cattle show, March 27-29.

An Important Agenda

Ottawa.—The premier of the provinces of Canada will face an imposing agenda of nearly forty items when he meets here on Nov. 3. The conference of the premier promises to be the most important of its kind since Confederation. In view of the fact that several constitutional questions will come up for discussion and perhaps action. The conference will have no actual legislative or administrative authority, its conclusion will be far-reaching, as they will affect the legislative programmes of the future of the nine provincial governments during the next year.

Premier Offers Congratulations

Sends Wire To Hon. R. B. Bennett On His Appointment To Leadership

Ottawa.—Among the first to telegraph congratulations to Hon. R. B. Bennett, K.C., who was selected by the national convention to be leader of the Conservative Party, was the right hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, and leader of the Liberal Government. The Prime Minister despatched the following wire to Mr. Bennett:

"I have just learned of your selection as leader of the Conservative Party of Canada, and desire to tender to you very hearty congratulations upon the confidence thus expressed in you by the members of your party, and on the distinguished honor which they have conferred upon you."

The telegram bears the Prime Minister's signature.

MOVE TO SPEED UP IMMIGRATION FROM BRITAIN

Winnipeg.—Adoption of a quota policy in Canada to restrict continental immigration was regarded as feasible, Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration and Colonization, said a delegation of the general synod of the Anglican Church, which conferred with him here, but he gave his assurance that his department would not accept all it could to increase immigration and to keep control over continental immigration.

The delegation consisted of Archbishop Matheson, the primate of all Canada; Chancellor Macbray, Mr. Justice Denison, J. W. B. Armstrong, W. G. Styles, Rogers; G. B. Woods, Loftis H. Reid, Toronto; and Canon Vernon.

A statement issued said: "Mr. Forke stated that the subject of immigration would occupy an important place on the agenda of the conference between the Dominion and provincial governments in November."

The minister expressed a desire to meet representatives of the churches and other voluntary organizations interested in immigration to confer with him at Ottawa with a view to full co-operation in securing an increased flow of British settlers for Canada. The minister pointed out the valuable assistance that can be rendered by the churches in developing conditions for British families for land settlement, farm workers and household workers, to receive the assisted passage rate. He mentioned that in the past year more than 5,000 Britishers have been thus nominated.

"Mr. Forke told the delegation that the assistance to be offered to enable British lads who make good in Canada as farm workers to take up land of their own will be applicable to boys placed out through the church of England schools at Winnipeg, Melfort and Edmonton. The department was doing everything possible to develop family settlement schemes along somewhat similar lines to the existing 3,000-family scheme."

"The Archbishop assured Mr. Forke that there had not been on the part of the synod or the church any intention of attacking or embarrassing the Government, nor were they actuated by any ill-will towards the Roman Catholic Church."

SEEKING LAND IN CANADA

This photograph, taken outside the Union Station, Winnipeg, is of a group of prominent United States farmers, who have been looking over settlement prospects in Saskatchewan and some of whom have purchased land. They were brought to Canada in September by Capt. L. H. Boyd, superintendent of the land, colonization and development department of the Canadian National Railway at St. Paul, Minnesota, and were interested in the Eden, Tyner Valley and Snipe

Trying To Reach Coast

Mexican Rebel Leaders Being Pursued By Federal Troops

Mexico City.—Pursued through the wild mountain country of western Vera Cruz, the rebel generals, Arnaldo Gomez and Hector Almaraz, were believed to be attempting to reach the coast, where passage in a fishing boat or other small craft would put them beyond the reach of the government.

Hot on their trails are colonel paratroopers and federal troops under command of General Gonzales Escobar, who reported that he had dispersed the rebel forces and captured the main body, leaving Gomez and Almaraz with only about 100 followers.

As guard against the activities of bandits attempting to take advantage of the situation, the government has ordered an adequate escort of federal soldiers for every freight and passenger train.

Japanese Volcano Erupted

Covered Countryside For Seventy Miles With White Ash

Tokio.—With a thunderous roar, Asama-Yama, active Japanese volcano, erupted recently, emitting an immense volume of thick black smoke and covering the countryside with a white ash.

Farmers at work in the fields were compelled to use umbrellas as a protection from the ashes which fell as far distant from the volcano as Utsunomiya, seventy miles to the east. (Asama-Yama is about 50 miles northwest of Tokyo.)

Infantile Paralysis Serum

Indianapolis, Ind.—Commercial production of a specific, said to be beneficial in the treatment of infantile paralysis, was announced here by the Eli Lilly Biological Laboratories, the concern which first produced insulin as a commercial product. The new serum has been developed in co-operation with Dr. Edward S. Ross, now head of the division of experimental bacteriology of the Mayo foundation, Rochester, Minn.

Arrange Exhibits For Agricultural Jubilee

Every Branch Of Federal Department To Be Represented Says Motherwell

Ottawa.—Every branch of the Federal Department of Agriculture will be represented in the celebration of Canada's Agricultural Jubilee, Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, announced, "and they are altogether aside from the provincial, educational and livestock displays which will be part and parcel of this presentation of the greatest of all of the Dominion's basic industries."

Alberta, which has had its banner crop year, has notified the minister that its exhibit will comprise grains from this year's yield, and that its display will be most comprehensive. Manitoba and Saskatchewan also will be represented.

The agricultural jubilee will be staged at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair in Toronto from November 16 to 25.

Armistice Day

Occasion To Be Marked By A Two Minutes' Silence On Friday Morning

Ottawa.—The following announcement was issued by the Prime Minister here with respect to Armistice Day observance:

"In accordance with arrangements for the observance of Armistice Day, sanctioned by His Majesty the King, the people of Canada are invited to mark the occasion by a two minutes silence at 11 o'clock on Friday morning, the 11th of November, 1927. This is a special observance suggested by His Majesty and is in addition to the regular celebration of the date recognized by the Canadian Parliament for the Monday previous."

Needs Full Autonomy

Canada's Highest Destiny Rests With In-British Commonwealth Says Borden

Winnipeg.—"I yield to no man in my aspiration of the fullest autonomy for this great country as a nation within the British Commonwealth of nations," declared Sir Robert Borden, former Prime Minister of Canada, in addressing the Canadian Club here.

The highest destiny of this great Dominion, Sir Robert said, rests with the British Commonwealth.

The former Premier dealt with the influence of the early French settlement in Canada on the development of the Dominion as an integral part of the British Empire.

U. S. HISTORY BOOKS HELD TO BE PRO-BRITISH

Chicago.—Violently pro-British history books have been used by Chicago school children ever since William McKinley became principal. John Gorman, former Congressman, told the board of education which is trying the suspended superintendent on charges of insubordination.

Mr. Gorman, who investigated the history book situation for Mayor William Hale Thompson, who made a campaign pledge to oust Mr. McDrew, particularly criticized the use in the schools of two history books written by David Muzzey.

The entire point of view, he said, was pro-British in these books and he charged there were numerous distortions, and that many vital matters pertaining to the revolutionary war were omitted. Mr. Gorman objected to many quotations, among them the following:

"The Boston tea party was the last straw."

"The colonies added insult to injury."

"The capital of Massachusetts was the seat of vulgar sedition."

"George Washington was a tyrant, dictator, despot and the stepfather of his country."

"The Continental Congress was a collection of pettifogging lawyers and mechanics."

Mr. Gorman said he found only one history that was satisfactory, this being "The History of America" by Fish.

"Most of the books," he told the board, "not only admitted but also distorted and misstated the facts hitherto held important in American histories."

In each of them was a clearly defined tendency to endeavor to unite Great Britain with the United States. Mr. Gorman told the board. They showed definite seeds of the Rhodes scholarships, the Carnegie foundation and the English-speaking Union.

BENNETT CHOSEN NEW LEADER OF CONSERVATIVES

Hon. R. B. Bennett, K.C., Calgary, is the new leader of the Conservative Party in Canada.

On the second ballot, the national convention of the party accorded him two more votes than the necessary one-half of all votes cast.

Mr. Bennett, speaking with much emotion, acknowledged the election of his leadership.

"It was difficult, Mr. Bennett said, for him to find words with which to express his sentiments.

"I thank you for your more than generous support, which was wholly unmerited," he said.

Mr. Bennett recalled that men occasionally attended some great religious edifice for the purpose of renouncing many things and in order to be consecrated to a life of service. The feeling might be different about a meeting of this nature but Mr. Bennett felt that the delegates had endeavored to act him aside for a life of service to Canada.

Mr. Bennett declared he could think of no more appropriate reply than to quote from the Scripture: "Whosoever among you will be chiefest among you shall be servant of all."

"You have made me your leader for the time and please God that I may be your faithful servant," Mr. Bennett added, while cheers drowned the last of his remarks. He pleaded for the wholehearted co-operation of the rank and file in discharging their duties and responsibilities as citizens of a great Dominion.

"If each of you must see to it that an educated democracy governs the destinies of Canada, if you have all become firm believers in Conservative policies, the party will act as an instrument for good in the development of our country and in the advancement of our national life."

Mr. Bennett stated that his election to the leadership involved his renunciation of many things he had held most dear in the past.

"These things I must now put behind me, for no man may serve two masters. I have said to myself, 'You have told me to dedicate your talents and qualifications I may have to the interests of the party which I will now be privileged to lead.'"

It was true, Mr. Bennett continued, that he had a number of considerable wealth accumulated through specialized opportunities on the great Western plains. No man, he said, could serve satisfactorily with pecuniary obligations hovering over his head. He had this respect, he said, he could serve his country without fear.

Canada's future, the new leader declared, must be one of unlimited expansion and increased prestige among the nations of the world. There was a great opportunity for the Conservative Party to act as an instrument in bringing the right policies into being for the country. He emphasized the need of organizing the younger generation to which the present leaders could only look to carry on the work of the party.

If effect were given to the Conservative policies sufficient industrial expansion would result to provide all our sons and daughters with employment within the borders of the Dominion.

"There must be no sacrifice of convictions; there must be no compromise of principles. Promise that you will be missionaries for your own party and your efforts will be crowned with success.
